ISOVER "HIGHLY COMMENDED" AT NATIONAL RECYCLING AWARDS

The best recycling and waste management achievements were recognised at this year's prestigious National Recycling Awards ceremony in London on Thursday, 15th July 2010. The awards brought together just under 600 people from a multitude of industries, proving that so many organisations across the board are now demonstrating outstanding innovation and commitment to waste management and recycling. Actor, comedian and writer, Hugh Dennis hosted the evening and presented the awards where Iover was shortlisted in the Best Recycled Product category.

Iover were highly commended, which is a fantastic achievement in a category open to any product manufactured with a majority of its constituent materials from recycled sources.

Paul Sanderson, Editor of MRW enthused "Every year the standard of entries gets higher and higher and it is becoming increasingly hard for judges to pick out a winner."
